

Jo Amish Young Artist Competition and the Raymond Santirocco Memorial Piano Award

Open to Instrumentalists and Pianists in Grades 11 & 12

David Harman, Music Director

Jo Amish

Jo Amish enjoyed a lifelong love of music. She was a strong supporter of the Penfield Symphony Orchestra, where she served as principal second violinist for more than thirty years. She believed strongly in the importance of promoting the arts to youth.

During Jo's final years, her five children decided to honor their mother through a contribution to the PSO by underwriting the Young Artist Award. The award was subsequently renamed in her honor. Jo was deeply touched by this and took great pride in presenting the award while her health permitted. Her love of music and generosity of spirit live on through the award and through her children and grandchildren.

Raymond Santirocco

Raymond Santirocco served as a Dean and as Associate Provost during his tenure at Rochester Institute of Technology. At the same time, he served eight years on the Penfield Town Board.

He was an accomplished pianist, and music was his constant love. During his many careers, Santirocco served on the boards of United Way, Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra, Penfield Symphony Orchestra, and Genesee Early Music Society, as well as the Penfield Library, Cornell Cooperative Extension, Crime Stoppers, Society for Total Emergency Preparedness (STEP), Manufacturing Partnership, Prevention Partners, and Project Unique.

Eligible instruments are strings, woodwinds, brass, percussion, harp, guitar, and piano.

If any of the three winners play the piano, they will also receive the Raymond A. Santirocco Memorial Piano Award.
